C. N. HASKELL HAS BIG LEAD

Cruce's Friends Have Practically Given Up Fight--50 Counties In

Oklahoma City, June 13.—Haskell again made steady gains over the figures of last night in the Oklahoma gubernatorial race, until at the close of today he was 4,220 ahead of Cruce. The total vote cast for governor in fifty counties reporting was 78,633. Of these 37,934 belong to the Muskogee man, 33,714 to Cruce and 6,945 to Doyle. If the ratio is preserved the total primary vote will hover around 100,000.

On today's report Cruce received 8,346 and Haskell 10,465, with the heavy votes from Bryan and Pontotoc included, and will cause predictions that Haskell will finish the contest with between 3,000 and 4,000 votes to spare.

Cruce's friends tonight have practically given up the fight, notwithstanding some of the counties supposedly heavy for him have not reported. Caddo county, expected by Cruce to bring 75 to 100 majority, followed Alfalfa's lead of yesterday and gave only nine more votes to him than it did to Haskell.

The counties not officially in are: Beckham, Carter, Cherokee, Cimarron, Cole, Custer, Ellis, Harper, Haskell, Jefferson, Love, Major, Creek, McCurtain, Nowata, Pittsburg, Pushmataha, Roger Mills, Rogers, Sequoyah, Tillman, Wagoner, Woods and Washington.

Unofficial returns tonight give Custer to Haskell by 14, Beckham, 100 and Woods to Cruce by 1,550. Woods county vote includes all of Woods county, as the constitutional map shows it, and seven precincts in Alfalfa, and one in Majors, which new counties are formed out of Woods. It appears the old Woods county organization disregarded the state committee instructions and attempted to usurp the duties of the new county boards in the primary. To the extent of eight boxes, it is reported to the state committee, they succeeded. In case of a close vote this will probably furnish basis of a contest. Haskell expects to carry about half the counties not yet reported.

Totals today, Cruce, 8,364, Haskell, 10,465.

Official yesterday, Cruce 25,350, Haskell, 27,469.

Total vote, Cruce, 33,714, Haskell, 37,934.

The senatorial race was continued in the Oklahoma side in see-saw fashion. While Hoffman had 86 votes the lead at closing time yesterday, Gore had a lead of 1,788 tonight, with 24 counties to hear from. There has been 79,243 votes cast in this end of the senatorial race, and aside from the two leaders, Turner has 19,972 and Nagle 4,057.

The vote for Indian Territory senator, in which Owen has now 10,949 more than Furman, is somewhat heavier than for the Oklahoma senator. From the fourteen counties reporting today Furman failed in eight. His vote, however, was proportionately heavier than Owens. Rutherford's vote is 7,732.

INJUNCTION CASES ARGUED

Attorneys Opposing the Oklahoma Constitution Present Their Views

Guthrie, Okla., June 13.—The argument of the opposing attorneys in the constitutional convention injunction cases was enlivened today by two unexpected incidents. The first was when justice John L. Panoast, the member who recently granted the permanent injunction preventing the holding of an election on the constitution called the attention of the other members of the bench to the fact that the South McAlester Daily Capital is daily publishing the election proclamation recently issued by President William H. Murray of the Constitutional convention calling the election for August 6. Judge Panoast cited the bench to the fact that while members of the convention are here seeking to be relieved from an injunction, the publication of the proclamation by Murray is in contempt of the very court injunction from which relief is sought.

No decision from the bench is anticipated on the cases for perhaps ten days. Several conferences are probable and in fact a dissenting opinion is rather expected from several of the members no matter which way the majority goes.

The attorneys for the injunction had their inning today before the supreme court. The argument was opened by Horace Speed, who talked for an hour, and was followed by A. M. Stewart of Mangum, W. S. S. Snody of Alva, A. R. Garrett of Mangum, Virgil Hobbs of Guthrie, and H. A. Noah of Alva. Delegate J. F. Kink of Newkirk made an hour's speech, closing the argument for the convention.

The bench then took the matter under advisement.

Big Fourth for Roff.
 Roff is planning a big picnic for the 4th of July, under management of the town's fire department.

The big affair will be pulled off in Lucy Bennett Park. There will be band music and patriotic oratory in abundance, also ball games, foot races, and a variety of other fun.

People of Roff are hoping that Ada will not have any "big doings" that day, but instead, Ada folks will go down and help Roff celebrate. In which case Roff promises to return the favor and the visit the first time Ada extends the invitation thereafter.

beautifully illustrated, and the tragic scenes of the cross will be shown—His agony in the garden of Gethsemane, the betrayal by Judas, the arrest trial, crucifixion, burial resurrection and ascension. Some beautifully illustrated hymns will be sung from the screen.

It will be an evening of both pleasure and profit.

The price for admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children under fifteen years of age. Poor people who are not able to afford the price of admission will receive tickets free by calling upon the evangelist.

Roddie also Ran in Seminole.
 Advice from Seminole county are to the effect that R. M. Roddie carried that county over J. W. Dean for the state senate by a majority of 655.

THE FIRST CURTAIN CALL.
 Voltaire One to Whom Original Honor Was Paid.

At the first performance in Berlin of Gerhart Hauptmann's "Jungfrau von Bismarck" the author was repeatedly called before the curtain, and the incident caused inquiry as to when and where the practice of honoring an author in that way originated. The Berliner Tageblatt gives this answer: "The first call took place on the evening of February 26, 1743. On that memorable evening Voltaire's 'Merope' was performed for the first time in Paris. The author was known to the Paris public, but nothing that they had seen of him had pleased them so much as 'Merope,' and the enthusiasm found expression in noisy demands to see the author. In a letter Voltaire says this of the incident: 'They dragged me out and led me by force to the box occupied by the Duchesse de Villars and her daughter-in-law. The whole theater seemed to have gone mad—all shouted to the duchesse to kiss me.' The noise became so great that the lady finally obeyed. So I was like Alain Chartier, publicly kissed, but he was asleep, while I was wide awake! Now authors answer similar calls by appearing before the curtain. They gain insofar that they can be seen better by their audience, but they must dispense with the duchess's kiss—at least in public."

ROMANCE OF NAVAL CRAFT.

Interesting History of a Ship and Yacht Called Dorothea.

Among the vessels assigned to the naval militia is one with a history. It seems that many years ago, when it was the custom of the insurance underwriters to put up at auction vessels that had been long overdue and not heard from, a young apprentice in Philadelphia happened to attend one of these auctions at which a large ship named the Dorothea was put up for sale.

The vessel had taken aboard a very valuable cargo, which would go with the ship to the successful bidder, but the very fact that the property was so valuable had kept the underwriters from selling the craft until long after it had become generally believed that she was a total wreck.

Consequently the auctioneer cried the good ship Dorothea many times without getting a bid. Finally the young apprentice jokingly bid five dollars, as nobody would bid higher, the vessel and her cargo were knocked down to him. Imagine the astonishment of the maritime world when the Dorothea was reported sailing into Delaware bay.

The apprentice sold his prize for enough to start him in business, and for years the house thus formed was one of the leaders in enterprise and resources in the Quaker city. But at all times the head of the firm and his family successors made a point of owning and operating a ship named the Dorothea, which name also was given the oldest daughter in each succeeding generation.

Shortly before the Spanish war, however, the third head of the house was in failing health, and the only hope of saving his life, he was advised, was to live at sea. Accordingly he gave an order to the Cramps for a large and luxuriously appointed yacht, to be called the Dorothea, of course, and no expense was spared in her construction and equipment.

Unfortunately, death came to the owner before his yacht was finally finished and the government paid a fancy price for the Dorothea early in 1898.

With the close of the war there was no purely naval duty for which the Dorothea was fitted, and yet the government did not wish to sell her because there was no possibility of getting a price for her anything like what she had cost. She was accordingly laid up at the League Island navy yard until, says the Chicago Chronicle, the Illinois Naval reserves succeeded in convincing the navy department that they were entitled to her.

Use Compressed Air.
 Compressed air is now used in the large iron foundry at the Schenectady works of the General Electric company for almost every operation connected with the making of a finished casting. Although the machinery in the other adjacent shops is operated entirely by electricity, in the iron foundry, where the operations are scattered and intermittent, compressed air was found to be advantageous for small power services. The air is supplied at 80 pounds pressure by a number of electric motor-driven compressors of different capacities.

No Danger.
 "Aren't you afraid that dog will bite some of your neighbors?"
 "Not a bit. He's bitten several already and it didn't seem to hurt him any."

Something Needed
Portland Park Addition

Lots near the big Cement Plant to accommodate the hundreds of laborers to be employed in this great industry. This need has been met by laying out the Portland Park Addition just west of the cement plant. Lots are 36 feet by 140, with 60-foot streets and 20-foot alleys. Prices of lots are from $20 to $30. Terms, $5 down and $2 per month. A large reservoir is to be built on the north side by the cement company which will afford boating and fishing.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL
CLOSES SUNDAY NIGHT

A fine hearing was given last night, at the First Christian church to the evangelists sermon on "What must a sinner do to be saved." The substance of the sermon was to show that, to become a Christian the sinner must take God at His word. Believe what he says. Do what he commands. Be what he requires. Live as he directs, and trust his promises.

So plain was the way of salvation made that no one could misunderstand its terms.

At the close of the sermon when the invitation was extended, two good women came forward and presented themselves for membership in the local congregation, and were happily received.

Tonight the subject of the sermon will be "The man who wanted to be saved his own way. The subject Saturday night will be the "Wedding Garment." Sunday night will be "The Wanderer's return." These remaining services will be of great interest and no one can afford to miss them.

The evangelists will remain over Monday night to give an illustrated lecture under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the church for the benefit of their organ fund. The lecture will be on the life and passion of Jesus, or "From the Manger to the Throne," as announced on the tick-ets now on sale. The lecture will be illustrated with a fine stereopticon and the best calcium light. The evangelist has as good a line of Bible views as can be obtained, and he will show about one hundred scenes and incidents in the life of the Savior, beginning with his childhood. They will show the babe in the manger at Bethlehem, the visit of the shepherds, the wise men, the flight into Egypt, slaying of the children by Herod, Jesus at twelve years of age in the temple, his baptism and ministry. Many of his miracles and parables will be

LONELY DOUGHERTY ISLAND.

No Landing Ever Made There, and Sighted Only Twice in a Century.

Which is the loneliest, most desolate and most inaccessible island on the face of the globe? Many people would doubtless plump for one of the Crozets, which were recently brought into notice owing to the wreck thereon of the Norwegian exploring ship Catherine, and the subsequent rescue of the castaway crew by the Turakina, a British steamer dispatched from Cape Town for that purpose.

But Hog island, the westernmost of the group and the one whereon the wrecked men spent most of their time, is by no means an undesirable place of residence, says Person's Weekly, abounding as it does in hares and rabbits, penguins, albatrosses and sea elephant.

Heard island, in the same seas, is far more isolated, as well as more barren; but it possesses, as does Hog, a shelter hut for castaways, and is visited by whalers occasionally. So too is South Georgia, but it has no shelter hut, and as it is right out of the track of shipping and one unlucky enough to be cast away thereon would stand a very poor chance of ever getting off alive.

Bouvet island, in the same seas, is visited even more rarely, and on the last occasion when a ship touched there five corpses were found frozen on the beach, grim mementoes of some unrecorded tragedy of the sea. Possession island, in its turn, is still lonelier and more inhospitable than Bouvet.

But probably the palm in this direction must be ascribed to Dougherty island, on which, as far as is known, no landing has ever yet been effected. It has only been sighted twice in a century, and is officially described in the admiralty sailing directions as "the most remote and isolated spot on earth."

DISCOVERY OF DRESDEN CHINA.

Valuable Secret Entirely the Result of an Accident.

Dresden china was discovered through accident. John Frederick Botcher was a chemist's assistant in Berlin about 1700. At that time all potters were endeavoring to discover a means of making translucent china, but in vain.

Botcher, having fallen under suspicion of being an alchemist, was obliged to leave Berlin and take refuge in Saxony. Augustus II, was elector of Saxony, and in a hope of finding the secret of the philosopher's stone he placed young Botcher in a laboratory with orders to carry on his experiments. While working along the lines designated by the elector, Botcher surprised himself by discovering something akin to Chinese porcelain. He was at once bidden by the king to pursue the quest of making china. He might have continued his endeavors for many years, had not an accident given him the key to the translucent china.

A wealthy iron founder was riding on horseback near Aue, in Saxony, when he noticed that his horse lifted its feet with difficulty. On examination he found that the animal's hoofs were filled with a peculiar white adhesive clay. More out of curiosity than anything else, he took some of this clay home with him, and succeeded in making it into a fine white powder. Through chance Botcher obtained some of this powder and found that it was the long-sought kaolin.

The secret of the translucent china was solved, and the king ordered a china factory to be built, of which Botcher was the head.—Sunday Magazine.

LOVE FOR OLD FURNITURE.

Pride of Ancestry as Common Weakness of the Human.

We all know the woman who would not own a stick of old furniture unless it came from her ancestors, and I think most of us have been wicked enough to wonder if her opportunities in this direction have been very extensive.

The woman has yet to be discovered who would not own diamonds unless they came to her by inheritance, and it is quite as unreasonable to deny ourselves the possession of beautiful furniture simply because some one in the past was not wise or thoughtful enough to provide for our need. It is possible that some kinds of "ancestor worship" do take as violent a form as this, but it is to be hoped they are not very prevalent. Doubtless in cases where ancestors are well and favorably known to one, furniture inherited from them is enhanced in value if the furniture has of itself any rightful claims to appreciation, but no amount of noble ancestry should even reconcile us to some kinds of furniture.

Few, too, are fortunate enough to have possessed ancestors with the proper amount of foresight, and in many cases, where beautiful old furniture was possessed in abundance, it was carelessly passed along to the washerwoman or exchanged for modern pieces before the owners became aware that it had any value.—Indoors and Out.

Floral Fancies.

To arrange flowers in a bowl first fill the bowl with dried moss, water it well, and stick the stalks of the flowers into the moss. In this manner half the number of blossoms will suffice. When flowers are scarce it is a good plan to arrange them in vases and bowls placed in front of a mirror, by which means their value is doubled. Bright colored blossoms such as poppies, azaleas, etc., should always be arranged with their backs to the light, so that the full abundance of their beauty may be shown. Corsage bouquets should have their stems neatly covered with silver foil, so as to prevent them from staining or wetting the delicate silks, chiffon or lace on to which they are fixed.

No Doubt of Their Standing.

A Washington correspondent told the other night a story that he claimed to have heard from President Roosevelt at a Gridiron club dinner. "Two women," he said, "were discussing some new neighbors who had moved into one of the most sumptuous houses in their city. 'They seem to be very rich,' said the first. 'Oh, they are,' said the second. 'Shall you call?' 'Decidedly.' 'You are sure, are you, that they are—quite correct, quite—quite good form?' 'Oh, my dear, I'm positive,' said the second woman. 'They have 30 servants, 18 horses, 12 dogs, 11 automobiles and one child.'"

ARTICLES LOST AT SEA.

Hats and Other Wearing Apparel Perquisites for Neptune.

Did you ever speculate on what becomes of the hats and other articles of wearing apparel that find their way into the sea from the steamers that are constantly plying back and forth? Hardly a ship steams from one port to another without somebody's hat or boa or shawl blowing overboard. Thousands of them have been lost that way and scarcely a single one has been recovered. They are dashed to bits by the waves, blown to shreds and otherwise destroyed.

But once in a blue moon a hat does come back to land, as in the case not long ago when a large fish was caught. In cleaning it a woman's hat, almost intact, was found in the stomach of the denizen of the deep. There is reason to believe that this bit of feminine wearing apparel had not lodged very long in its curious resting place, for even a fish is not proof against indigestion or its equivalent when it comes to eating straw braid, feathers and flowers. This hat has been preserved as a specimen of considerable interest on account of its unique travels. Of course if the fair owner ever makes a claim on it and can identify her property it will be returned to her.

Skilful European Horsemen.

Gen. Louis Berta, inspector of cavalry in the Italian army, is one of the finest horsemen in Europe. The general has trained man and horse to negotiate serious obstacles and to arrive at such a pitch of perfection that there is hardly any obstacle which cannot be overcome.

Chief among these conquered difficulties are the now famous "glissades," or slides down steep slopes made with such astonishing success by the Cavalry School of Tor de Quinto at Rome. After having excited the wonder and applause of all sportsmen, civil and military, these glissades have taken their place among the regulation exercises of foreign cavalry schools.

Not only does the general himself perform the glissades which he has thus made so popular and important a part of his system but he has a daughter, Mlle. Inez Berta, an accomplished horsewoman, who can do the glissades as well as her father or any cavalryman in the Italian army.

Fire Rock and Fire Clay Found Near Ada.

J. W. Jones of this city has found an inexhaustible supply of fire rock and clay used for building purposes and for lining furnaces. It is considered a very valuable material, as the same product is being shipped into Oklahoma from Kansas and Missouri. Let this find be investigated and if it is worth the while, induce capital to make developments. That clay is now and going to be a valuable product in the new state is evident in the following:

Prof. Gould, of Oklahoma University says: "I expect to live to see the time when a new wooden house in Oklahoma will be a rarity. The world is fast passing out of the iron into the cement age. Clay is now used for shingles, pottery, pipes, and almost everything previously made of wood."

SCHOOL HABITS IN PERSIA.

Boys Sit on Floor and Recite Lessons as if Chanting.

Oriental children have their marbles, their skipping rope and the little toy plows into which cats and kittens are harnessed for play. They enjoy life fully as much as do American children. When the boys are 10 years old they are sent to school in the nearest mosque. Parents will sometimes take a boy to school and deliver him over to the gentle care of the teacher with these words: "His bones are mine, but his flesh is yours. Teach him and punish him as you see fit."

When boys go to school they usually sit in two rows. One row sits along one wall, books in hand, and the other row along the opposite wall. The teacher sits in the middle of the room. They do not use chairs, but sit on the floor, which is covered with a reed matting. When they are studying their lessons they sway their bodies backward and forward as if they were in a rocking chair and read with a loud voice in a singsong style as if they were chanting.

Success.

Success is the most badly abused word in the world. The railway magnate who, by manipulating stock markets gains possession of great properties, regards himself as a successful man. The burglar who blows open a safe and escapes with the money he was after considers himself successful. The buccaneer who filled his ship's hold with booty felt that he had won success, and the man who, for the gratification of his own selfish desires, destroys the home of another, feels, we may be sure, that he, too, has been successful.

The Reason for It.

Mrs. Hiram Offen—Why did you leave your last place?
Pretty Servant—The couple I lived with didn't agree.

Mrs. Hiram Offen—Why should their disagreements bother you?
Pretty Servant—Why, the mistress don't like me, but the master is quite fond of me.

BIG FIND OF MEERSCHAUM.

Discovery Does Away With Turkish Government's Monopoly.

Because of the discovery of vast deposits of meerschaum in the mountains of New Mexico it is likely that the monopoly of that mineral heretofore held by the Turkish government will be broken, and pipes of that material will be lessened in cost.

Until recently all the meerschaum used in the commerce of the world was produced from a mine in the plains of Eskihisher, Anatoly, Turkey in Asia. In those mines are employed 10,000 men. The output of the mine was owned by the Turkish government and it kept the price up.

It is said that enough meerschaum has been discovered in Grant county, New Mexico, to supply the world's needs.

There is a popular belief that meerschaum is petrified sea foam washed up ages ago and solidified by some strange process of nature. Meerschaum is a mineral known to scientists as "sepiolite." It is composed principally of silica and magnesium. It is found in fissures in the rock, where volcanic action has forced it up to the surface.

Meerschaum is used not only for making tobacco pipes, but because of its unique properties of resisting a high degree of heat and its ready absorption of water, it is put to various electrical and mechanical uses.

In the mines of New Mexico a solid block of meerschaum weighing 42 pounds was taken out. It was the largest block of meerschaum ever mined.—New York Financial News.

OLIVE OIL OF CALIFORNIA.

Shipped in Great Tanks, Like So Much Petroleum.

The sale of olive oil constitutes one of the largest items of revenue to California. Although olives have been grown there for more than half a century, the quantity of fruit sold outside of the state before 1900 was insignificant.

Forming themselves into an association, a number of the large growers have taken steps since then to compete with Italy and France in selling their product, and have succeeded to such an extent that, according to Moody's Magazine, they manufacture a large proportion of the 250,000 gallons of olive oil at present produced in this country.

One ton of olives usually yields 30 to 35 gallons of oil.

For the eastern trade the California association has established an extensive bottling plant in New England to which the oil is actually shipped by the carload in tanks, like so much petroleum. One of the large olive orchards alone contains no less than 120,000 trees, which will give an idea of the magnitude of olive growing.

The Modern Newspaper.

"When ex-Gov. Pennypacker was still a judge," said a Philadelphia reporter, "he showed me in his uptown house his superb collection of old newspapers. As he turned those faded pages I said: 'Do you think sir, that our newspapers have improved?' He smiled, his shrewd and kindly eyes twinkled and he answered: 'They have grown larger.'"

"Laughing, I asked him what he thought of our Sunday papers. 'They are marvelous,' he replied. 'They are encyclopedic, however I take one of them up I am reminded of the old Frenchman of the last century who read his paper with great care and thoroughness, but whose progress was so slow and whose paper was so large that he was always eight months behind the current issue.'"

Peruvians as Engineers.

Next to the Romans, the ancient Peruvians were perhaps the most efficient civil engineers. Their roads were marvelous, and one, the highway from Quito into the Chilian dominion, was one of the most remarkable roads the world has ever known.

It was 20 feet wide and 2,000 miles in length, passing over snow capped mountains, through canyons cut for miles through the solid rock, and across turbulent mountain streams and rivers. The feat of constructing this road might well try the skill of our best modern engineers.—Sunday Magazine.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

PONTOTOC COUNTY RESULTS

Official Figures Show Furman Carries County 4 to 1--Cruce Plurality 316--In Sensational Sheriff's Race T. J. Smith Wins by 18 Over Mitchell--2,973 Votes Cast.

All the suspense and strain and harrassment of the primary election in Pontotoc county is over. The central committee which met last afternoon to canvass the results worked faithfully until two o'clock last night and finally completed its arduous labors at noon today. The News, anxious to inform the people of the result at the earliest possible moment, has kept a man constantly tabling with the committee. Below will be found the total vote for each candidate. Later will appear the vote by boxes for each county and district candidate. The figures here given are official just as tabulated by the committee.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes sections for UNITED STATES SENATOR Oklahoma Territory, Indian Territory, STATE OFFICERS Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes sections for State Auditor, Attorney General, State Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, State Examiner and Inspector, Chief Mine Inspector.

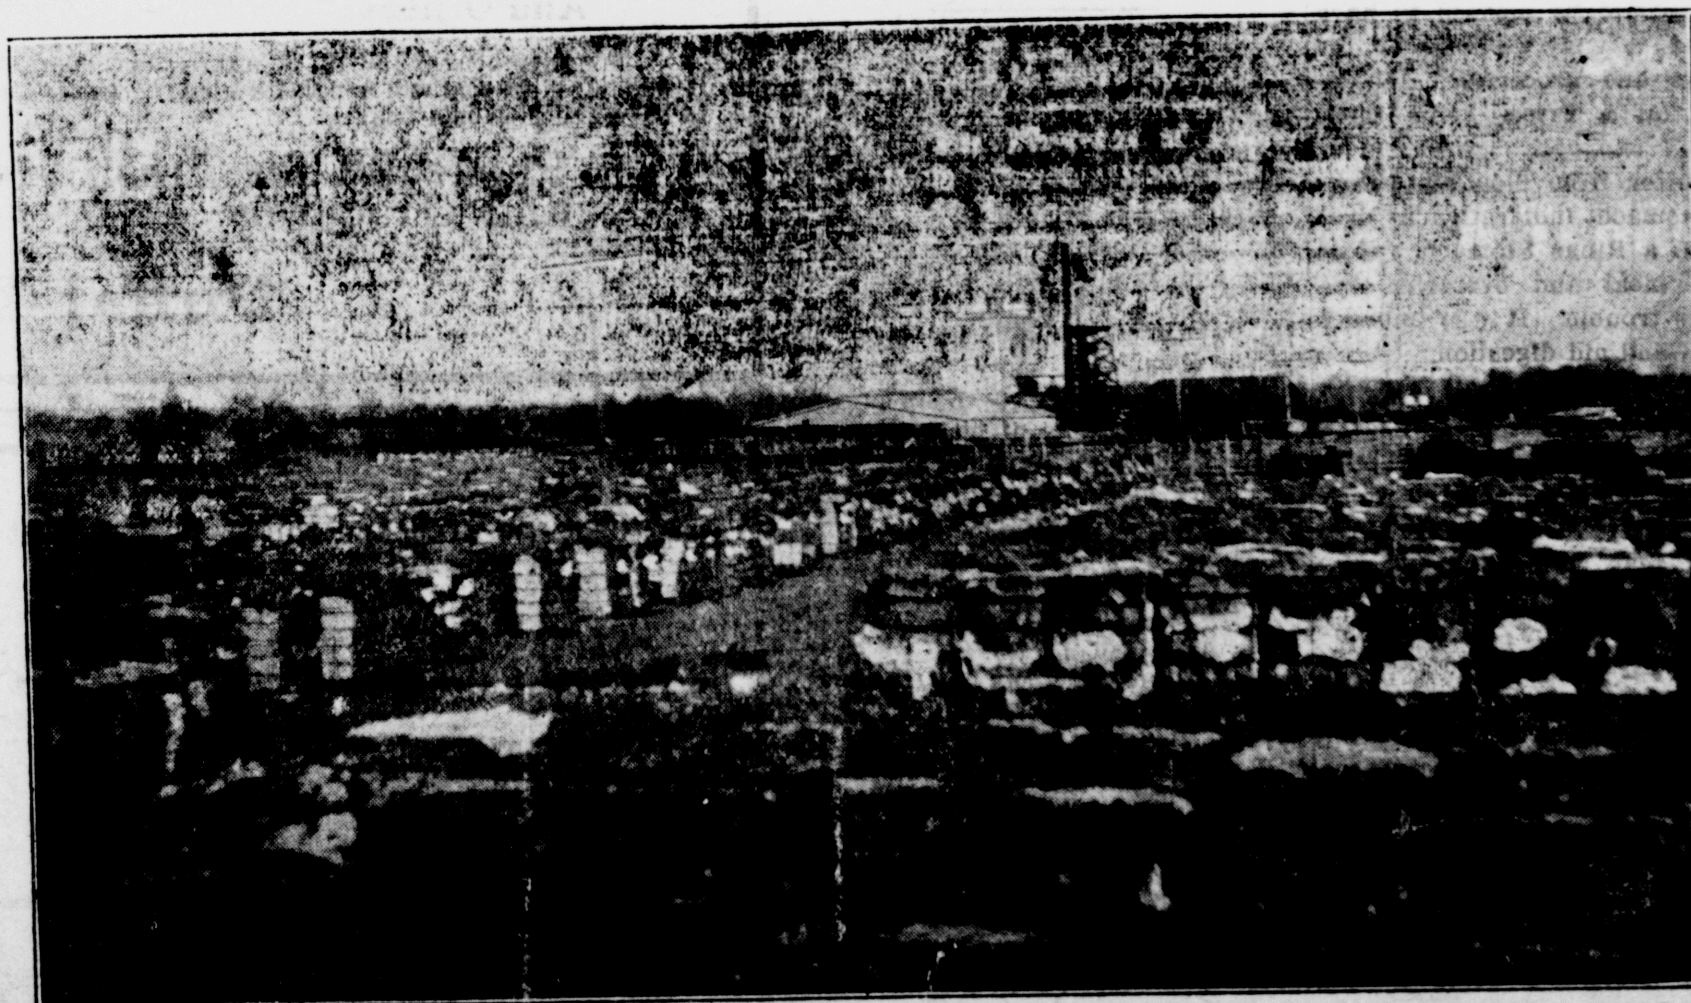

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes sections for Labor Commissioner, Commissioner of Charities and Corrections, Commissioner of Insurance, Corporation Commissioner.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote Count. Includes sections for Justice of the Supreme Court, Clerk of the Supreme Court, DISTRICT OFFICERS Congress, District No. 4, State Senator.

The defeated candidates should attend one of the protracted meetings now in progress and ask the Lord to forgive those who lied about them and persecuted them.

Large table with 30 columns representing different precincts (West Ada, East Ada, Lovelady, etc.) and rows listing candidates and their vote counts for various offices including District Judge, Representative, Judge of County Court, County Attorney, Clerk of District Court, County Clerk, Sheriff, County Treasurer, Register of Deeds, County Surveyor, Superintendent of Schools, County Weigher, County Com. District No. 1, 2, 3.

Precinct and County Call. In pursuance of a call made by the State Democratic Committee, the democrats of each voting precinct in Pontotoc county shall meet on Saturday, June 15, and select delegates to the county convention hereby called to meet at Ada on June 17th, to select delegates to the democratic state convention to be held in Oklahoma City, Tuesday, June 18, 1907. Each precinct is entitled to one delegate to the county convention for every 25 votes cast for governor or major part thereof, at the primary election held June 8th, 1907. Said county convention shall meet at Ada, Monday, June 17th, at noon and select delegates to the state convention, said delegates to be selected one for each 100 votes or major part thereof cast in Pontotoc county at the last primary election for governor. Dated June 13, 1907. W. L. Maharg, W. L. Maharg, Chairman, Sam McClure, Secretary.

ADA! COTTON COMPRESS, 11000 BALES IN SIGHT

It is evident Chas. N. Haskell is the democratic nominee for governor. A telephone message early this morning from Oklahoma City to the News stated he was 5,000 ahead. A majority not possible to overcome. Also a message from Senator Gore says with his fine vote in Pontotoc his majority is 3,100, considered quite safe. How certain is Haskell's victory may be judged from what Cruce's head organ, the Oklahoman, says today. Hitherto it has heralded every day figures showing Cruce undoubtedly winner. Today it speaks as follows: Reports from all the eighteen counties of the proposed new state indicate beyond reasonable doubt that C. N. Haskell of Muskogee will have a plurality on the face of the returns in the race for the democratic nomination for governor. What that plurality will be is problematical. Friends of the Muskogee man claim it will exceed 4,000 votes. A careful analysis of the vote already reported indicate that it will be considerably less than that figure. An impartial estimate places it at 2,500.

LONELY DOUGHERTY ISLAND.

No Landing Ever Made There, and Sighted Only Twice in a Century.

Which is the loneliest, most desolate and most inaccessible island on the face of the globe? Many people would doubtless plump for one of the Crozets, which were recently brought into notice owing to the wreck thereon of the Norwegian exploring ship Catherine, and the subsequent rescue of the castaway crew by the Turukina, a British steamer dispatched from Cape Town for that purpose.

But Hog Island, the westernmost of the group and the one whereon the wrecked men spent most of their time, is by no means an undesirable place of residence, says Person's Weekly, abounding as it does in hares and rabbits, penguins, albatrosses and sea elephants.

Heard Island, in the same seas, is far more isolated, as well as more barren; but it possesses, as does Hog, a shelter hut for castaways, and is visited by whalers occasionally. So too is South Georgia, but it has no shelter hut, and as it is right out of the track of shipping and one unlucky enough to be cast away thereon would stand a very poor chance of ever getting off alive.

Bevet Island, in the same seas, is visited even more rarely, and on the last occasion when a ship touched there five corpses were found frozen on the beach, killed by a fall of some unrecorded tragedy of the sea. Possession Island, it is true, is still lonelier and more inhospitable than Bevet.

But probably the palm in this direction must be awarded to Dougherty Island, on which, as far as is known, no landing has ever been effected. It has only been sighted twice in a century, and is officially described in the admiralty sailing directions as "the most remote and isolated spot on earth."

DISCOVERY OF DRESDEN CHINA.

Valuable Secret Entirely the Result of an Accident.

Dresden china was discovered through accident. John Frederick Botcher was a chemist's assistant in Berlin about 1700. At that time all potters were endeavoring to discover a means of making translucent china, but in vain.

Botcher, having fallen under suspicion of being an alchemist, was obliged to leave Berlin and take refuge in Saxony. Augustus II, was elector of Saxony, and in a hope of finding the secret of the philosopher's stone he placed young Botcher in a laboratory, with orders to carry on his experiments. While working along the lines designated by the elector, Botcher surprised himself by discovering something akin to Chinese porcelain. He was at once hidden by the king to pursue the quest of making china. He might have continued his endeavor for many years, had not an accident given him the key to the translucent china.

A wealthy iron founder was riding on horseback near Aue, in Saxony, when he noticed that his horse lifted its feet with difficulty. On examination he found that the animal's hoofs were filled with a peculiar white adhesive clay. More out of curiosity than anything else, he took some of this clay home with him, and succeeded in making it into a fine white powder. Through chance Botcher obtained some of this powder and found that it was the long-sought kaolin.

The secret of the translucent china was solved, and the king ordered a china factory to be built, of which Botcher was the head.—Sunday Magazine.

LOVE FOR OLD FURNITURE.

Pride of Ancestry as Common Weakness of the Human.

We all know the woman who would not own a stick of old furniture unless it came from her ancestors, and I think most of us have been wicked enough to wonder if her opportunities in this direction have been very extensive.

The woman has yet to be discovered who would not own diamonds unless they came to her by inheritance, and it is quite as unreasonable to deny oneself the possession of beautiful furniture simply because some one in the past was not wise or thoughtful enough to provide for our need. It is possible that some kinds of "ancestor worship" do take as violent a form as this, but it is to be hoped they are not very prevalent. Doubtless in cases where ancestors are well and favorably known to one, furniture inherited from them is enhanced in value if the furniture has of itself any rightful claims to appreciation, but no amount of noble ancestry should even reconcile us to some kinds of furniture.

Few, too, are fortunate enough to have possessed ancestors with the proper amount of foresight, and in many cases, where beautiful old furniture was possessed in abundance, it was carelessly passed along to the washerwoman or exchanged for modern pieces before the owners became aware that it had any value.—Indoors and Out.

Floral Fancies.

To arrange flowers in a bowl first fill the bowl with dried moss, water it well, and stick the stalks of the flowers into the moss. In this manner half the number of blossoms will suffice. When flowers are scarce it is a good plan to arrange them in vases and bowls placed in front of a mirror, by which means their value is doubled. Bright colored blossoms such as poppies, azaleas, etc., should always be arranged with their backs to the light, so that the full abundance of their beauty may be shown. Corolla blossoms should have their stems neatly covered with silver foil, so as to prevent them from staining or wetting the delicate silks, chiffon or lace on to which they are fixed.

No Doubt of Their Standing.

A Washington correspondent told the other night a story that he claimed to have heard from President Roosevelt at a Grilliron club dinner. "Two women," he said, "were discussing some new neighbors who had moved into one of the most sumptuous houses in their city. 'They seem to be very rich,' said the first. 'Oh, they are,' said the second. 'Shall you call?' 'Decidedly.' 'You are sure, are you, that they are—quite correct, quite—good form?' 'Oh, my dear, I'm positive,' said the second woman. 'They have 30 servants, 18 horses, 12 dogs, 11 automobiles and one child.'"

ARTICLES LOST AT SEA.

Hats and Other Wearing Apparel Perquisites for Neptune.

Did you ever speculate on what becomes of the hats and other articles of wearing apparel that find their way into the sea from the steamers that are constantly plying back and forth? Hardly a ship steams from one port to another without somebody's hat or boa or shawl blowing overboard. Thousands of them have been lost that way and scarcely a single one has been recovered. They are dashed to bits by the waves, blown to shreds and everlastingly destroyed.

But once in a blue moon a hat does come back to land, as in the case not long ago when a large fish was caught. In cleaning it a woman's hat, almost intact, was found in the stomach of the denizen of the deep. There is reason to believe that this bit of feminine wearing apparel had not lodged very long in its curious resting place, for even a fish is not proof against indigestion or its equivalent when it comes to eating straw braid, feathers and flowers. This hat has been preserved as a specimen of considerable interest on account of its unique travels. Of course if the fair owner ever makes a claim on it and can identify her property it will be returned to her.

Skilful European Horsemen.

Gen. Louis Hertie, Inspector of cavalry in the Italian army, is one of the finest horsemen in Europe. The general has trained man and horse to negotiate serious obstacles and to arrive at such a pitch of perfection that there is hardly any obstacle which cannot be overcome.

Chief among these conquered difficulties are the now famous "glissades," or slides down steep slopes made with such astonishing success by the Cavalry School of Tor de Quinto at Rome. After having excited the wonder and applause of all sportsmen, civil and military, these glissades have taken their place among the regular exercises of foreign cavalry schools.

Not only does the general himself perform the glissades which he has thus made so popular and important a part of his system but he has a daughter, Mlle. Inez Hertie, an accomplished equestrian, who can do the glissades as well as her father or any cavalryman in the Italian army.

Fire Rock and Fire Clay Found Near Ada.

J. W. Jones of this city has found an inexhaustible supply of fire rock and clay used for building purposes and for lining furnaces. It is considered a very valuable material, as the same product is being shipped into Oklahoma from Kansas and Missouri. Let this find be investigated and if it is worth the while, invest capital to make developments. That clay is now and going to be a valuable product in the new state is evident in the following:

Prof. Gould, of Oklahoma University says: "I expect to live to see the time when a new wooden house in Oklahoma will be a rarity. The world is fast passing out of the iron into the cement age. Clay is now used for shingles, pottery, pipes, and almost everything previously made of wood."

SCHOOL HABITS IN PERSIA.

Boys Sit on Floor and Recite Lessons as if Chanting.

Oriental children have their manners then skipping rope and the other toys into which cats and kittens are harnessed for play. They play like only as much as do American children. When the boys are 10 years old they are sent to school in the nearest mosque. Parents will sometimes take a boy to school and deliver him over to the gentle care of the teacher with these words: "This boy is mine, but his flesh is yours. Teach him and punish him as you see fit."

When boys go to school they usually sit in two rows. One row sits along one wall, backs in hand, and the other row along the opposite wall. The teacher sits in the middle of the room. They do not use chairs, but sit on the floor, which is covered with a reed matting. When they are studying their lessons they sway their bodies backward and forward as if they were in a rocking chair and read with a loud voice in a singsong style as if they were chanting.

Success.

Success is the most badly abused word in the world. The railway magnate who, by manipulating stock markets gains possession of great properties, regards himself as a successful man. The burglar who blows open a safe and escapes with the money he was after considers himself successful. The buccaneer who filled his ship's hold with booty felt that he had won success, and the man who, for the gratification of his own selfish desires, destroys the home of another, feels, we may be sure, that he, too, has been successful.

The Reason for It.

Mrs. Hiram Offen—Why did you leave your last place? Pretty Servant—The couple I lived with didn't agree. Mrs. Hiram Offen—Why should their disagreements bother you? Pretty Servant—Why, the mistress didn't like me, but the master was quite fond of me.

BIG FIND OF MEERSCHAUM.

Discovery Does Away With Turkish Government's Monopoly.

Because of the discovery of vast deposits of meerschaum in the mountains of New Mexico it is likely that the monopoly of that mineral heretofore held by the Turkish government will be broken, and pipes of that material will be lessened in cost.

Until recently all the meerschaum used in the commerce of the world was produced from a mine in the plains of Eskihisler, Anatoly, Turkey in Asia. In those mines are employed 10,000 men. The output of the mine was owned by the Turkish government and it kept the price up.

It is said that enough meerschaum has been discovered in Grant county, New Mexico, to supply the world's needs.

There is a popular belief that meerschaum is petrified sea foam washed up ages ago and solidified by some strange process of nature. Meerschaum is a mineral known to scientists as "sepiolite." It is composed principally of silica and magnesium. It is found in fissures in the rock, where volcanic action has forced it up to the surface.

Meerschaum is used not only for making tobacco pipes, but because of its unique properties of resisting a high degree of heat and its ready absorption of water, it is put to various electrical and mechanical uses.

In the mines of New Mexico a solid block of meerschaum weighing 42 pounds was taken out. It was the largest block of meerschaum ever mined.—New York Financial News.

OLIVE OIL OF CALIFORNIA.

Shipped in Great Tanks, Like So Much Petroleum.

The sale of olive oil constitutes one of the largest items of revenue to California. Although olives have been grown there for more than half a century, the quantity of fruit sold outside of the state before 1900 was insignificant.

Forming themselves into an association, a number of the large growers have taken steps since then to compete with Italy and France in selling their product, and have succeeded to such an extent that, according to Moody's Magazine, they manufacture a large proportion of the 250,000 gallons of olive oil at present produced in this country.

One ton of olives usually yields 30 to 40 gallons of oil.

For the eastern trade the California association has established an extensive bottling plant in New England to which the oil is actually shipped by the carload in tanks, like so much petroleum. One of the large olive orchards alone contains no less than 120,000 trees, which will give an idea of the magnitude of olive growing.

The Modern Newspaper.

"When ex-Gov. Pennypacker was still a printer," said a Philadelphia reporter, "he showed me in his upstairs room his superb collection of old newspapers. As he turned these old papers I said, 'Do you think any of our newspapers have improved?' He smiled, he chuckled and kindly explained and he answered: 'They have grown larger'."

"Luncheon," I asked him what he thought of our Sunday papers. "They are marvellous," he replied. "They are enveloped in a new era. I take one of them up. I am reminded of the old Frenchman of the last century who read his paper with great care and thoroughness, but whose progress was so slow and whose paper was so large that he was always several months behind the current issue."

Peruvians as Engineers.

Next to the Romans, the ancient Peruvians were the most efficient civil engineers. Their roads were marvellous and one, the highway from Quito into the Chilian dominion, was one of the most remarkable roads the world has ever known. It was 20 feet wide and 2,000 miles in length, passing over snow capped mountains, through canyons cut for miles through the solid rock, and across turbulent mountain streams and rivers. The feat of constructing this road might well try the skill of our best modern engineers.—Sunday Mail, 12-2

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

Precinct and County Call. In pursuance of a call made by the State Democratic Committee, the democrats of each voting precinct in Pontotoc county shall meet on Saturday, June 15, and select delegates to the county convention hereby called to meet at Ada on June 17th, to select delegates to the democratic state convention to be held in Oklahoma City, Tuesday, June 18, 1907. Each precinct is entitled to one delegate to the county convention for every 25 votes cast for governor or major part thereof, at the primary election held June 5th, 1907. Said county convention shall meet at Ada, Monday, June 17th, at noon and select delegates to the state convention, said delegates to be selected one for each 100 votes or major part thereof cast in Pontotoc county at the last primary election for governor. Dated June 13, 1907. W. L. Maharg, W. L. Maharg, Chairman, Sam McClure, Secretary.

It is evident Chas. N. Haskell is the democratic nominee for governor. A telephone message early this morning from Oklahoma City to the News stated he was 5,000 ahead. A majority not possible to overcome. Also a message from Senator Gore says with his fine vote in Pontotoc his majority is 3,100, considered quite safe. How certain is Haskell's victory may be judged from what Cruce's head organ, the Oklahoman, says today. Hitherto it has heralded every day figures showing Cruce undoubtedly winner. Today it speaks as follows: Reports from all the eighteen counties of the proposed new state indicate beyond reasonable doubt that C. N. Haskell of Muskogee will have a plurality on the face of the returns in the race for the democratic nomination for governor. What that plurality will be is problematical. Friends of the Muskogee man claim it will exceed 4,000 votes. A careful analysis of the vote already reported indicate that it will be considerably less than that figure. An impartial estimate places it at 2,500.

C. N. HASKELL HAS BIG LEAD

Cruce's Friends Have Practically Given Up Fight--50 Counties In

Oklahoma City, June 13.—Haskell again made steady gains over the figures of last night in the Oklahoma gubernatorial race, until at the close of today he was 4,320 ahead of Cruce. The total vote cast for governor in fifty counties reporting was 78,633. Of these 37,934 belong to the Muskogee man, 33,714 to Cruce and 6,945 to Doyle. If the ratio is preserved the total primary vote will hover around 100,000.

On today's report Cruce received 8,346 and Haskell 10,465, with the heavy votes from Bryan and Pontotoc included, and will cause predictions that Haskell will finish the contest with between 3,000 and 4,000 votes to spare.

Cruce's friends tonight have practically given up the fight, notwithstanding some of the counties supposedly heavy for him have not reported. Caddo county expected by Cruce from 75 to 100 majority followed Alfalfa's lead of yesterday and gave only nine more votes to him than it did to Haskell.

The counties not officially in are Beckham, Carter, Cherokee, Cimarron, Cole, Custer, Ellis, Harper, Haskell, Jefferson, Love, Major Creek, McCurtain, Nowata, Pittsburg, Pushmataha, Roger Mills, Rogers, Sequoyah, Tillman, Wagoner, Woods and Washington.

Unofficial returns tonight give Cruce to Haskell by 14 Beckham 100 and Woods to Cruce by 1,510. Woods county vote includes all of Woods county, as the constitutional map shows it, and seven precincts in Alfalfa, and one in Majors, which new counties are formed out of Woods. It appears the old Woods county organization disregarded the state committee instructions and attempted to usurp the duties of the new county boards in the primary. To the extent of eight boxes, it is reported to the state committee, they succeeded in case of a close vote this will probably furnish basis of a contest. Haskell expects to carry about half the counties not yet reported.

Totals today, Cruce, 8,346, Haskell, 10,465. Official yesterday, Cruce 25,350, Haskell, 27,469. Total vote, Cruce, 33,714, Haskell, 37,934.

The senatorial race was continued in the Oklahoma side in see-saw fashion. While Hoffman had 86 votes the lead at closing time yesterday Gore had a lead of 1,788 tonight, with 24 counties toehold from. There has been 79,243 votes cast in this end of the senatorial race and aside from the two leaders Turner has 19,972 and Nagle 4,057.

The vote for Indian Territory senator in which Owen has now 10,949 more than Furman, is somewhat heavier than for the Oklahoma senator. From the fourteen counties reporting today Furman failed in eight. His vote, however, was proportionately heavier than Owens. Rutherford's vote is 7,732.

INJUNCTION CASES ARGUED

Attorneys Opposing the Oklahoma Constitution Present Their Views

Guthrie, Okla. June 13.—The argument of the opposing attorneys in the constitutional convention injunction cases was enlivened today by two unexpected incidents. The first was when justice John L. Pancoast the member who recently granted the permanent injunction preventing the holding of an election on the constitution called the attention of the other members of the bench to the fact that the South McAlester Daily Capital is daily publishing the election proclamation recently issued by President William H. Murray of the Constitutional convention calling the election for August 6. Judge Pancoast cited the bench to the fact that while members of the convention are here seeking to be relieved from an injunction the publication of the proclamation by Murray is in contempt of the very court injunction from which relief is sought.

No decision from the bench is anticipated on the cases for perhaps ten days. Several conferences are probable and in fact a dissenting opinion is rather expected from several of the members no matter which way the majority goes.

The attorneys for the injunction had their inning today before the supreme court. The argument was opened by Horace Speed, who talked for an hour, and was followed by A. M. Stewart of Mangum, W. S. Snoddy of Alva, A. R. Garrett of Mangum, Virgil Hobbs of Guthrie, and H. A. Noah of Alva.

Delegate J. F. Kink of Newkirk made an hour's speech, closing the argument for the convention.

The bench then took the matter under advisement.

Big Fourth for Roff.
Roff is planning a big picnic for the 4th of July, under management of the town's fire department.

The big affair will be pulled off in Lucy Bennett Park. There will be band music and patriotic oratory in abundance also ball games, foot races, and a variety of other fun.

People of Roff are hoping that Ada will not have any 'big doings' that day but instead, Ada folks will go down and help Roff celebrate. In which case Roff promises to return the favor and the visit the first time Ada extends the invitation thereafter.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL CLOSING SUNDAY NIGHT

A fine hearing was given last night, at the First Christian church to the evangelists sermon on 'What must a sinner do to be saved.' The substance of the sermon was to show that, to become a Christian the sinner must take God at His word. Believe what he says. Do what he commands. Be what he requires. Live as he directs and trust his promises.

So plain was the way of salvation made that no one could misunderstand its terms.

At the close of the sermon when the invitation was extended, two good women came forward and presented themselves for membership in the local congregation, and were happily received.

Tonight the subject of the sermon will be 'The man who wanted to be saved his own way.' The subject Saturday night will be the Wedding Garment. Sunday night will be 'The Wanderer's return.' These remaining services will be of great interest and no one can afford to miss them.

The evangelists will remain over Monday night to give an illustrated lecture under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the church for the benefit of their organ fund. The lecture will be on the life and passion of Jesus, or 'From the Manger to the Throne,' as announced on the tickets now on sale. The lecture will be illustrated with a fine stereopticon and the best calcium light. The evangelist has as good a line of Bible views as can be obtained and he will show about one hundred scenes and incidents in the life of the Savior, beginning with his childhood. They will show the babe in the manger at Bethlehem, the visit of the shepherds, and the wise men, the flight into Egypt, slaying of the children by Herod, Jesus at twelve years of age in the temple, his baptism and ministry. Many of his miracles and parables will be

THE FIRST CURTAIN CALL.

Voltaire One to Whom Original Honor Was Paid.

At the first performance in Berlin of Gerhart Hauptmann's "Jungfrau von Bismarck" the author was repeatedly called before the curtain, and the incident caused inquiry as to when and where the practice of honoring an author in that way originated.

The Berliner Tageblatt gives this answer: The first call took place on the evening of February 26, 1743. On that memorable evening Voltaire's Merope was performed for the first time in Paris. The author was known to the Paris public, but nothing that they had seen of him had pleased them so much as Merope, and the enthusiasm found expression in noisy demands to see the author. In a letter Voltaire says this of the incident: They dragged me out and led me by force to the box occupied by the Duchesse de Villars and her daughter in law. The whole theater seemed to have gone mad—all shouted to the duchesse to kiss me. The noise became so great that the lady finally obeyed. So I was like Alain Chartier, publicly kissed, but he was asleep while I was wide awake! Now authors answer similar calls by appearing before the curtain. They gain insofar that they can be seen better by their audience but they must dispense with the duchess kiss—at least in public.

"Graveyard Cocktail."
Some curious drinks that men call for in saloons says the Philadelphia Record were observed the other day by a man who stood at the end of the bar and took in everything that happened. The usual whiskies and beers were frequent but he also noticed that a number of men asked for egg in milk and egg in sherry. You sell a lot of eggs here," he observed to the bartender. "You bet we do," answered the man behind. Hundreds of men drink egg drinks only. There are several men who come in here that order egg in beer. How they get away with that awful mess I can't understand, but they drink it down as though they liked it. One man that comes in here has them all skinned. He always takes the most outlandish mixtures of stout and milk. He's the hunt for a crazy drinker, and hands my list of curious booze artists. We call his drink the 'graveyard cocktail'.

Use Compressed Air.
Compressed air is now used in the large iron foundry at the Schenectady works of the General Electric company for almost every operation connected with the making of a finished casting. Although the machinery in the other adjacent shops is operated entirely by electricity, in the iron foundry, where the operations are scattered, and intermittent, compressed air was found to be advantageous for small power services. The air is supplied at 80 pounds pressure by a number of electric motor-driven compressors of different capacities.

No Danger.

Something Needed Portland Park Addition

Lots near the big Cement Plant to accommodate the hundreds of laborers to be employed in this great industry. This need has been met by laying out the Portland Park Addition just west of the cement plant. Lots are 30 feet by 140, with 60-foot streets and 20-foot alleys. Prices of lots are from $20 to $30. Terms, $5 down and $2 per month. A large reservoir is to be built on the north side by the cement company which will afford boating and fishing.

LONELY DOUGHERTY ISLAND.
No Landing Ever Made There, and Sighted Only Twice in a Century.

Which is the loneliest, most desolate and most inaccessible island on the face of the globe? Many people would doubtless plump for one of the Crozets, which were recently brought into notice owing to the wreck thereon of the Norwegian exploring ship Cathartide, and the subsequent rescue of the castaway crew by the Turakina, a British steamer dispatched from Cape Town for that purpose.

But Hog Island, the westernmost of the group and the one whereon the wrecked men spent most of their time, is by no means an undesirable place of residence, says Person's Weekly, abounding as it does in hares and rabbits, penguins, albatrosses and sea elephants.

Heard Island, in the same seas, is far more isolated, as well as more barren; but it possesses, as does Hog, a shelter hut for castaways, and is visited by whalers occasionally. So too is South Georgia, but it has no shelter hut, and as it is right out of the track of shipping and one unlucky enough to be cast away thereon would stand a very poor chance of ever getting off alive.

Reuver Island, in the same seas, is visited even more rarely, and on the last occasion when a ship touched there five corpses were found frozen on the beach, grim evidence of some unrecorded tragedy of the sea. Possession Island, in its turn, is still lonelier and more inhospitable than Reuver.

But probably the paler in this direction must be ascribed to Dougherty Island, on which, as far as is known, no landing has ever yet been effected. It has only been sighted twice in a century, and is officially described in the admiralty sailing directions as "the most remote and isolated spot on earth."

DISCOVERY OF DRESDEN CHINA.
Valuable Secret Entirely the Result of an Accident.

Dresden china was discovered through accident. John Frederick Botcher was a chemist's assistant in Berlin about 1700. At that time all potters were endeavoring to discover a means of making translucent china, but in vain.

Botcher, having fallen under suspicion of being an alchemist, was obliged to leave Berlin and take refuge in Saxony. Augustus II. was elector of Saxony, and in a hope of finding the secret of the philosopher's stone he placed young Botcher in a laboratory, with orders to carry on his experiments. While working along the lines designated by the elector, Botcher surprised himself by discovering something akin to Chinese porcelain. He was at once bidden by the king to pursue the quest of making china. He might have continued his endeavors for many years, had not an accident given him the key to the translucent china.

A wealthy iron founder was riding on horseback near Aue, in Saxony, when he noticed that his horse lifted its feet with difficulty. On examination he found that the animal's hoofs were filled with a peculiar white adhesive clay. More out of curiosity than anything else, he took some of this clay home with him, and succeeded in making it into a fine white powder. Through chance Botcher obtained some of this powder and found that it was the long-sought kaolin.

The secret of the translucent china was solved, and the king ordered a china factory to be built, of which Botcher was the head.—Sunday Magazine.

LOVE FOR OLD FURNITURE.
Pride of Ancestry as Common Weakness of the Human.

We all know the woman who would not own a stick of old furniture unless it came from her ancestors, and I think most of us have been wicked enough to wonder if her opportunities in this direction have been very extensive.

The woman has yet to be discovered who would not own diamonds unless they came to her by inheritance, and it is quite as unexcusable to deny oneself the possession of beautiful furniture simply because some one in the past was not wise or thoughtful enough to provide for our need. It is possible that some kinds of "ancestral worship" do take as violent a form as this, but it is to be hoped they are not very prevalent. Doubtless in cases where ancestors are well and favorably known to one, furniture inherited from them is enhanced in value if the furniture has of itself any rightful claims to appreciation, but no amount of noble ancestry should ever reconcile us to some kinds of furniture.

Few, too, are fortunate enough to have possessed ancestors with the proper amount of foresight, and in many cases, where beautiful old furniture was possessed in abundance, it was carelessly passed along to the washerwoman or exchanged for modern pieces before the owners became aware that it had any value.—Indoors and Out.

Floral Fancies.
To arrange flowers in a bowl first fill the bowl with dried moss, water it well, and stick the stalks of the flowers into the moss. In this manner built the number of blossoms will suffice. When flowers are scarce it is a good plan to arrange them in vases and bowls placed in front of a mirror, by which means their value is doubled. Bright colored blossoms such as poppies, azaleas, etc., should always be arranged with their backs to the light, so that the full abundance of their beauty may be shown. Corolla bouquets should have their stems neatly covered with silver foil, so as to prevent them from staining or wetting the delicate silks, chiffon or lace on to which they are fixed.

No Doubt of Their Standing.
A Washington correspondent told the other night a story that he claimed to have heard from President Roosevelt at a Grifflon club dinner. "Two women," he said, "were discussing some new neighbors who had moved into one of the most sumptuous houses in their city. 'They seem to be very rich,' said the first. 'Oh, they are,' said the second. 'Shall you call?' 'Decidedly.' 'You are sure, are you, that they are—quite correct, quite—good, then?' 'Oh, my dear, I'm positive,' said the second woman. 'They have 30 servants, 18 horses, 12 dogs, 11 automobiles and one child.'"

ARTICLES LOST AT SEA.
Hats and Other Wearing Apparel Paragons for Neptune.

Did you ever speculate on what becomes of the hats and other articles of wearing apparel that find their way into the sea from the steamers that are constantly plying back and forth? Hardly a ship steams from one port to another without somebody's hat or coat or shawl blowing overboard. Thousands of them have been lost that way and scarcely a single one has been recovered. They are dashed to bits by the waves, blown to shreds and utterly destroyed.

But once in a blue moon a hat does come back to land, as in the case not long ago when a large fish was caught. In cleaning it a woman's hat, almost intact, was found in the stomach of the denizen of the deep. There is reason to believe that this bit of feminine wearing apparel had not lodged very long in its curious resting place, for even a fish is not proof against indigestion or its equivalent when it comes to eating straw braid, feathers and flowers. This hat has been preserved as a specimen of considerable interest on account of its unique travels. Of course if the fair owner ever makes a claim on it and can identify her property it will be returned to her.

Skilful European Horsemen.
Gen. Louis Berta, inspector of cavalry in the Italian army, is one of the finest horsemen in Europe. The general has trained man and horse to negotiate serious obstacles and to arrive at such a pitch of perfection that there is hardly any obstacle which cannot be overcome.

Chief among these conquered difficulties are the now famous "glissades," or slides down steep slopes made with such astonishing success by the Cavalry School of Tor de Quinto at Rome. After having excited the wonder and applause of all sportsmen, civil and military, these glissades have taken their place among the regular exercises of foreign cavalry schools.

Not only does the general himself perform the glissades which he has thus made so popular and important a part of his system but he has a daughter, Mile. Inez Berta, an accomplished equestrian, who can do the glissades as well as her father or any cavalryman in the Italian army.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

it is evident Chas. N. Haskell is the democratic nominee for governor. A telephone message early this morning from Oklahoma City to the News stated he was 5,000 ahead. A majority not possible to overcome. Also a message from Senator Gore says with his fine vote in Pontotoc his majority is 3,100, considered quite safe.

How certain is Haskell's victory may be judged from what Cruce's head organ, the Oklahoman, says today. Hitherto it has heralded every day figures showing Cruce undoubted winner. Today it speaks as follows:

Reports from all the eighteen counties of the proposed new state indicate beyond reasonable doubt that C. N. Haskell of Muskogee will have a plurality on the face of the returns in the race for the democratic nomination for governor. What that plurality will be is problematical. Friends of the Muskogee man claim it will exceed 4,000 votes. A careful analysis of the vote already reported

How certain is Haskell's victory may be judged from what Cruce's head opponent, the Oklahoman, says today. Hitherto it has heralded every day figures showing Cruce undoubtedly winner. Today it speaks as follows:

Reports from all the eighteen counties of the proposed new state indicate beyond reasonable doubt that C. N. Haskell of Muskogee will have a plurality on the face of the returns in the race for the democratic nomination for governor. What that plurality will be is problematical. Friends of the Muskogee man claim it will exceed 4,000 votes. A careful analysis of the vote already reported indicate that it will be considerably less than that figure. An impartial estimate places it at 2,500.
